

About Simon Harvey - President NTBA Inc 2015

Simon has held a number of governance roles in SA primary and secondary School Committees and one sporting club. He has seen many parts of the world including a three-month group leadership role with Operation Raleigh in Chile in the mid-1980s. He has worked in various part-time roles in the conduct of the Operation Flinders Foundation Inc field operations and training.

Simon brings a range of experience in governance, project management, training delivery, information technology and liaison together with competencies in human and resource management, occupational health and safety and training. He has worked in project management, facilities and construction, training centre delivery and operations management, organisational design and experimentation, field evaluation of technology solutions, planning and operational delivery across several layers of government and affiliated agencies.

Simon has played a range of sports through his life – Australian Rules Football, Rugby, Hockey, World Tae Kwon Do, Touch Football, Volleyball and Lawn Bowls with various levels of success before taking up badminton late in life. Early childhood memories of ‘shuttle cock – hit and giggle’ being played in the family garden in 10 mph winds are vividly recalled. That was a long time ago.... but it was still fun!
